About the Program

As part of the OCDC's Public Art Program, over 30 otherwise drab utility boxes have been turned into works of art. Volunteers from the Art League of Ocean City, community organizations, area schools and private businesses have all joined in to create beauty in unexpected spots around town.

Check out the Walking Tour map inside this brochure and enjoy the fun of discovering each location as you stroll along our city streets.

The utility box painting project is only a small part of what the OCDC's Public Art Program has accomplished. Over $450,000 has been raised in private contributions for 16 art projects in Ocean City, including: White Marlin Sculpture, Ocean City library sculpture, Eagle sculpture at 142nd Street, Seahawk Sculpture at 4th Street, Dorchester Street wall mural, Caroline Street enlarged postcards, paver art on west side of Philadelphia Avenue, wall mural on Talbot Street, Washington Lane mural and the Dolphin Plaza sculpture located near the Route 90 entrance to Ocean City.

Our public art projects have been very well received by so many. If you are interested in supporting our OCDC Public Art Program please do so by donating at www.ocdc.org. All levels of contribution are appreciated.

Creativity Abounds throughout the Streets of Ocean City Maryland

Please note:
As our city grows, change is inevitable, and locations for artwork may be subject to change as well. We apologize if any of the artwork has been moved or removed since the publication of this brochure.
